Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

considerably the most hard and firm on the side where the residuum was used; the heaviest loads and carriages made no impression on it, while the other piece did not fail to separate.

This material may also be used to cover garden walks; if mixed with a very small quantity of sand, and beaten down upon the walks, it forms a very hard bed which cannot be softened by rain or cracked by heat, and no plant or weed will grow upon it.

This bed, however, must not be made so deep or thick as to touch the roots of the neighbouring trees, as in that case it would kill them.

LIST OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

BIOGRAPHY.

MEMOIRS of a celebrated literary and political character, from the resignation of Sir Robert Walpole, in 1742, to the establishment of Lord Chatham's second administration in 1757; written by himself, 7s 6d.

Musical Biography; or, Memoirs of the Lives and Writings of the most eminent of the musical composers and writers, who have flourished in the different countries of Europe, during the last three centuries, 24s. bds.

The Memoirs of Goldoni, the celebrated Italian dramatist; written by himself. Translated by John Black, 2 vols. 21s.

The Lives of the Puritans: containing a biographical account of those divines who distinguished themselves in the cause of religious liberty, from the reformation under Queen Elizabeth, to the passing of the act of uniformity, in 1662; by the Rev. Benjamin Brook, £.1 16s.

Biographical notices of members of the society of Friends; by H. Tooke, vol. I. 3s. 6d.

Biographe Moderne; or lives of remarkable persons who have distinguished themselves from the French revolution to the present time, £.1 11s. 6d.

Biographia Dramatica; containing historical and critical memoirs, and original anecdotes of British and Irish Dramatic writers. Originally compiled by David Erskin Baker, to the year 1764; thence to 1782, by Isaac Reed, F.R.S.; and brought down to November, 1811, by Stephen Jones, £.2 8s. bds.

DRAMA.

Antony and Cleopatra, 2s. 6d.

Who's to have her? 1s. 6d.

Illusions; or, the trances of Nourjahad.

EDUCATION.

A new concise Dutch grammar; with rules, examples, and exercises; to which are added, a vocabulary, dialogues, and mercantile letters, in Dutch and English; by J. B. Hassendouck, M.A.

The Italian student's companion; being a series of extracts from the most celebrated Italian authors, beginning with Soave and ending with Dante; by M. Santagnello, 6s. bds.

York-House; or conversations in a lady's school; by Damina, 3s. 6d.

GEOGRAPHY AND TOPOGRAPHY.

A new General Atlas; to contain as many maps as are sufficient to give a complete geographical view of the globe, Nos. 1, 2, and 3, 8s. each.

The Battle of Bosworth Field, 1485. With the life of Richard 3d, till he assumed the regal power; by W. Hutton, F.A.S.S. The 2d edition, with additions, and eleven plates, by J. Nichols, F.S.A, 12s.

The Cambrian Traveller's Guide in every direction, 18s.

A new map of the environs of Bayonne, correctly copied from Casini's large map of France: on one large sheet 10s. 6d.; in a case 15s.

A new map of the Rhine, and adjacent countries, from the Mediterranean to the North Sea, and the entrance of the Baltic; by Captain Chauchard; on canvass and rollers, £.2 12s. 6d.

HISTORY.

Hamburgh; or, a particular account of the transactions which took place in that city, during the first six months of the year 1813; by Hannibal Evans Lloyd, Esq.

The Parliamentary History of England, vol. 27, £.1 11s. 6d.

JURISPRUDENCE.

The Law Almanac for 1814, 3s. 6d.

A Digest of the pleas of the Crown; by F. Archbold, esq. Vol. 1st, £.1 10s.

MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

A practical treatise on the remittent Fever of Infants, with remarks on Hydrocephalus Internus, and several other diseases; by James Millman Coley, Surgeon, 7s.

Practical Remarks on Insanity; to which is added, a commentary on the dissection of the brains of Maniacs; with some account of diseases incident to the insane; by Bryan Crowther, Surgeon, 5s.

Researches into the Physical History of Man; by James Cowles Pritchard, M.D. F.R S., 16s.

Lectures of Inflammation; by John Thompson, M.D. 14s.

Some account of an uncommon appearance of the flesh of a sheep; with reflections on the nutrition of sheep, &c.; by Walter Vaughan, M.D. 2s

Anatomical Instructor; by Thomas Pole, 7s.

A new Medical Dictionary; by Robert Hooper, M.D., 18s.

On Diseases of the Liver, and Disorders of the digestive functions; by S. Banks, member of the Royal College of Surgeons.

A Dissertation on the Rhatama Root; giving an account of its cultivation, generic term, and its tonic properties in cases of indigestion, general and local debility &c., and of the method employed by the ladies of Peru of using it as a dentifrice; by Don Hipolits Ruiz. Translated from the Spanish, 2s.

MISCELLANIES.

Letters written by eminent persons in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Now first published from the originals, in the Bodleian Library, and Ashmolean Museum, £.1 11s. 6d.

Patronage; by Miss Edgeworth.

The Shooter's Guide; containing the natural history of Dogs; the various fowling pieces pointed out; the game-laws, with remarks thereon; together with occasional remarks; by B. Thomas, 10s. 6d.

Cottage Sketches; or, active retirement; by the author of the "Antidote to the Miseries of Human Life," &c. &c., 10s. bds.

The art and mystery of a Cordwainer; or, an essay on the principles and practice of boot and shoemaking; with illustrative copper plates; by J. E. Rees, 7s.

Practical and Philosophical principles of making Malt; in which the efficac of the sprinkling system is contrasted with the Hertfordshire Method; by John Reynoldson, esq. £.1 1s.

The History of the celebrated Nanny Goose; by a Lady, 1s. 6d.

The Adventures of Timothy Thoughtless; or, the misfortunes of a little boy who ran away from a boarding school; by G. Walker, 1s. 6d.

The Cottager's Assistant; or, the wedding present: containing useful receipts, specimens for cutting clothing on copper-plates, and a variety of necessary information, calculated to promote the interest, and excite gratitude in the deserving poor, 3s.

The Variegated Snake; a new and pleasant game to instruct the mind of youth.

First Impressions; or, the History of Emma Nesbit; a tale for youth.

The progress of the Pilgrim Good-Intent, in Jacobinical times; by Mrs. M. A. Burgess, 4s.

Paddy O' urrough; or, the Irish Freeholder's Expedition to the Election at Kildare; price 1s. plain, and 1s. 6d. coloured.

Picturesque representations of the manners, customs, and amusements of the Russians; by John Augustus Atkinson, 15 guineas.

Evening Amusements; or, beauties of the Heaven displayed; in which the striking appearances to be observed in various evenings during the year 1814, are described; by William Frend, M.A. 3s. bds.

Female Scripture Characters; exemplifying Female Virtues; by the author of "The Beneficial Effects of the Christian Temper on Domestic Happiness," 8s. bds.

The Feast of the Poets; with a variety of additional notes, and some other pieces in verse; containing critical notices of Lord Byron, Messrs. Crabbe, Rogers, Hayley, Scott, Campbell, Moore, Southey, Coleridge, Wordsworth, and others; together with remarks on the present state of our versification, and on poets and poetry in general; by the Editor of the Examiner.

Hints for the improvement of the peasantry of Ireland, accompanied with a series of designs for Cabins; by Richard Elsam, Architect.

An Introduction to the Mathematical principles of Natural Philosophy; by the Rev. B. Bridge, 25s.

A sentimental Journey to Margate and Hastings; by Dr. Comparative, Jun.

Germany; translated from the French of the Baroness Stael Holstein, £.1 16s.

Outlines of a Treatise, practical and experimental, on the cultivation of Timber, particularly oak for domestic and naval purposes; by Lord Glenbervie.

Political Portraits in this New Era; with explanatory notes, historical and biographical; by William Playfair, 2 vols. £.1 1s.

The British Constitution, analized by a reference to its History; by a summary or detail of its most salutary laws; and by a Sketch of the Government of Great Britain, as a monarchy, peerage, and democracy: with their conjoint and separate prerogatives and privileges Being a succinct account of their dependence upon, or independence of each other, whether judicially or politically. The whole comprizing a compendium of jurisprudence, essentially necessary for the information of every Briton; carefully compiled from authentic documents; by a Doctor of Laws, 16s. bds.

"The Law is the surest sanctuary a man can take, and the strongest fortress to protect the weakest of all."

A complete general Analytical Index to the Edinburgh Review, from October, 1802, to November, 1812.

Maternal solicitude for a daughter's best interests; by Mrs. Taylor, of Ongar, 5s. bds.

The Twelfth Number of the British Gallery of Engravings; by Edward Forster, M.A. F.R.S., &c. £.2 2s.

MUSIC.

The Fifth Number of Irish Melodies, with symphonies and accompaniments; by Sir John Stevenson; and characteristic words by Thomas Moore, Esq. 15s.

NATURAL HISTORY.

Dr. Pulteney's Catalogue of the birds, shells, and plants of Dorsetshire, with portraits, and 24 plates, £.2 2.

The Natural History of British Insects, explaining them in their several states, with the period of their transformations, their food, economy, &c.; by E. Donovan, F.L.S. The Sixteenth Volume, with 36 coloured plates, £.1 11s.

NOVELS, TALES, AND ROMANCES.

Cœlebs Married; being intended as a continuation of "Cœlebs in search of a Wife," 7s.

The Towers of Ravenswold; or, the days of Ironside; a romance; by W. H. Hitchener, 10s. 6d.

Amabel; or Memoirs of a Woman of Fashion; by Mrs. Hervey, 4 vols.

The Bachelor's Heiress; or, a tale without mystery; by C. G. Ward, 15s.

The Ballad-singer; by Mrs. Edgeworth, 4 vols.

Deception; a novel founded on facts; by Mrs. Green.

POETRY.

Chevy Chace; a poem founded on the ancient ballad, 10s. 6d. bds.

Modern Accomplishments; or, the boarding-school; a tale in verse, 2s. 6d.

Spain Delivered; in two cantos, and other poems; by Preston Fitzgerald, Esq. 6s. bds.

The Battle of Vittoria; by an Officer, 7s. 6d.

Infancy; by Thomas Brock, A.M. 3s. 6d.

The Bride of Abydos; a Turkish tale; by Lord Byron, 5s. 6d.

The Wonders of a Week at Bath; in a doggrel address to the Hon. T. S....., from F.T....., Esq. of that City, 7s. bds.

The Campaign; by John Gwilliam, 7s. 6d.

Canting; a poem, 9s.

The Missionary; 7s. 6d.

Virgil in London; or, Town Eclogues; to which are added imitations from Horace, 5s.

Chalcographimania; or, the portrait collector, and printseller's chronicle, with infatuations of every description; a humourous poem, in four books, with copious notes explanatory; bringing to view the different Cacoëthes now the rage, followed with so much avidity by all ranks in society; by Satiricus Sculptor, Esq. 10s. 6d.

Leipsic; a poem, by J. B. Trotter, Esq.

POLITICS AND POLITICAL ECONOMY.

The Right of Free Discussion, claimed and exercised. Being a Narrative of the origin and proceedings of the independent Debating Society in Liverpool, with a report of several speeches on Catholic Emancipation, free discussion, the representative system, &c.; by John Wright, President.—Liverpool printed, 1s. 6d.—"One of the favourite characteristics of liberty, is the independence it bestows. He who is truly a freeman, is above all servile compliance, and while he regards his superiors with proper deference, neither debases himself by cringing to them, nor is tempted to purchase their favour by dishonourable means." on the Catholic question, debated in the House of Commons, 24th May, 1813; with additional observations; by George Ensor, Esq., 3s. 4d.—Dublin printed.

An Answer to the Speeches of Mr. Abbott, Sir John Nicholl, Mr. Banks, &c. &c.

SERMONS.

A Vindication of Unitarians, and Unitarianism; two sermons preached at Norwich, on occasion of the establishment of the Eastern Unitarian book society; by Robert Aspland, Pastor of the Unitarian Church, Hackney.

Sermon preached at Leeds on the death of the Rev. J. Simpson; by the Rev. T. Jervis, 2s.

THEOLOGY.

A Plea for Unitarian Dissenters, in a letter of expostulation to the Rev. H. Norris, M.A., on that part of his late work against Hackney Auxiliary Bible Society, which relates to Unitarians; by Robert Aspland, Pastor of the Unitarian Church, Hackney, 4s. 6d.

The necessity of Revelation to teach the doctrine of a future state; by John Kenrick, M.A. 1s.

Lectures upon the History of the Old Testament; by the Rev. Thomas Smith, 10s. 6d.

DOCUMENTS RELATING TO PUBLIC AFFAIRS.

SPEECH OF THE REV. WM. SHEPHERD.

At a period when the enemies of liberty exult, and affect to consider that the real consistent friends of freedom are discomfited on account of the reverse of Bonaparte's fortune, the following speech of the Rev. William Shepherd, a dissenting clergyman of Gatacre, near Liverpool, and Curator of the Liverpool Botanical Garden, at a dinner of the Concentric Society in that town, may be given as an answer to the silly boastings so common on this as well as on the other side of the channel. Another motive for giving publicity to such patriotic effusions may be assigned, that such articles on the side of liberality and liberty seldom find their way into our provincial papers. There is an evident leaning against liberty, more or less direct, in our Northern press, by some openly avowed, and by others more covertly, but not with less reality. Does the fault lie in the caterers for the public, or in the vitiated taste of the people themselves?

CONCENTRIC SOCIETY.

On the health of the Rev. William Shepherd being given, that Gentleman addressed the company as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen,

I rise to assure you that I entertain a most grateful sense of the honour which you have just now done me. It should seem, however, gentlemen, that there are individuals who are of opinion that by conferring on me this distinction, you have by no means established a claim on my gratitude; but that, on the contrary, you have thereby raised me to a "painful pre-eminence," in return for which you are entitled to any thing on my part, rather than to thanks. For the individuals in question, taking it for granted that the consequence of what has just occurred, namely, your drinking my health, must necessarily be a speech, have lately expressed themselves as kindly solicitous on the behalf of those whom they are pleased to denominate the orators of our party, lest the sources of their eloquence should be absolutely dried up; and in the friendliness of their anxiety, they have marvelled most exceedingly what in the present conjuncture we can possibly find to say.

Gentlemen, with many thanks to these individuals for their kind concern, I have the happiness to assure you that I never in my life attended a meeting at which it might be expected that I should be called upon to speak my sentiments upon public affairs—that I never in my life attended a meeting of this description, with my mind more at ease than it is at present, with respect to the number, the variety, and the importance of the topics upon which, to the best of my humble abilities, I should have to dilate. And gentlemen, I will say farther, that I never in my life attended a public meeting with a more full and perfect conviction of the excellence of the principles which we have so long maintained, and of the goodness of the cause in which we have been so long conjointly embarked, than that which animates me at the present moment. Upon every consideration I meet you to-day, gentlemen, with sentiments of